IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Richard Wayne Moore, who passed away 4 years ago, Oct. 5, 1957.

Sad and sudden was the call,
Of one so dearly loved by all.
It was a bitter grief, a shock severe;
To part with one, we loved so dear.

As we loved you, so we miss you,
In our hearts you are always near.
Loved, remembered, longed for always,
Bringing many a tear.
We think of you in silence,
No fond have seen us weep,
We shed our tears from a broken heart,
While others lie asleep.

Dear God, please whisper that our thoughts are with him;
In that kingdom up above.
Tell him that we miss him,
And send him all our love.
—Sadly missed by his parents, and brother, Mr. and Mrs. Royal Moore and Lewis Edward.

An overflow crowd attended the funeral services for the late deacon George Beasley Friday, Sept. 29, from Galilee Church, with full military and Masonic rites. He died in Lynchburg General Hospital after a serious illness, early Sept. 23. He was born June 26, 1912 in Appomattox Co. He was a faithful member of Galilee Church. Served as a deacon, Sunday School worker, member of the Men's Club, and choir member. He served as local Carver-Price P.-T. A. president for several years.
He was a member of Long Mountain Lodge No. 204 of A. F. Masons of Va. He married the former Miss Celestine Tibbs, of Appomattox, Va., in 1941.
He leaves to mourn their loss, a faithful wife, Mrs. C. D. Beasley; a son, George H. Beasley Jr.; four sisters, three brothers, mother and father and other close relatives.

The annual revival and homecoming was held at Mount Airy Baptist Church last Sunday at the regular 11:30 preaching service.
The Promise Land Baptist Church and pastor and choir will render service at the Mt. Zion Baptist Church this Sunday at 3 P. M.

NOT ENOUGH LIME IS USED, SAYS VPI AGRONOMIST

Virginia farmers are not using enough lime.

This fact is pointed up in the summary of the reports on 77,000 soil samples tested in the soil testing laboratory in the agronomy department at Virginia Polytechnic Institute during 1960.

W. W. Lewis, agronomist at V. P. I., says 41.7 per cent of the soil samples tested below 6.0 pH. A pH test of 6.0 to 6.5 is considered best for most crops in Virginia. Some crops such as tobacco, peanuts, and alfalfa have different requirements.

Over 22 per cent of the potash tests were low, 63.4 per cent were medium, while 27.6 per cent of the phosphate tests were low and 31 per cent were medium.

Lewis says the tests vary in different sections of the state. soils from the coastal plain will test lower in potash. Western Virginia will generally have lower phosphate tests. Soils and past fertilizer practices are responible for the variations.

Lewis says Virginia should use around 1,000,000 tons of lime each year, but the actual rate runs only a little over 500,000 tons.

During the past few years trouble with barley has been traced to the need for lime. Summary on tests from barley fields shows that over 37 per cent of the samples test below 6.0 pH.

A summary of alfalfa samples shows that 49.1 per cent of the samples test below the lowest recommended limit for efficient production. And 65.3 per cent of the samples from alfalfa fields tested medium or low in potash.

There's a lesson to be learned, Lewis says. Have your soils tested, lime and fertilize as directed. Otherwise, you're farming in the dark.

"California, Here We Come"

"California, Here We Come!"

That is the likely slogan of the Leon Gillis family, en route to the Pacific Coast from Eastern Virginia, in a horse-drawn covered wagon. The family of eight passed through Appomattox Monday and Tuesday, and found a very warm and friendly welcome.

They spent Monday night camping at Vera, and spent most of the day Tuesday in and around Appomattox, and in the afternoon they pressed on to the Concord area. The daily stint is about 15 miles.

Their "covered wagon" is a neat and liveable vehicle, pulled by two horses, Gracie and George. Its entourage includes one dog, Duchess; a cat, Smokey, and a kitten.

Mr. and Mrs. Gillis reside at Providence Forge, Va., where they operate a restaurant. Gillis is a native of Henrico County. During World War II he worked in Washington and met and married Ione Koland, a native of Minnesota. The wedding bells rang in 1943. They have six children, all with them on their trip: Lee Ann, 17; Allan, 16; Carol, 14; Barbara, 13; Janet, 9 George, 6.

Mr. Gillis admits that it was his wife's idea to drive by horse-drawn covered wagon to the Coast. It took three months to build their rubber-tired vehicle. It is 20 feet long, and not a square foot of wasted space. They carry a portable radio and a supply of rubber horse-shoes for Gracie and George. They are not in a hurry, and will hunt and fish along the way. They are keeping a "trip-log" and an autograph book. The children have their school books along.

After crossing the Mississippi they will likely veer to the South ern route, to avoid the hazards of winter in the Rockies.

In Appomattox Tuesday, they camped at noon on the edge of town, and then visited the Elementary School. Scores of townspeople came out to meet them. The "story of the week" in Appomattox was "Did you see the Covered Wagon?"

JAYCEES TO REPEAT SALE OF BULBS

Local Confederate Letter Home

Monday Morning June the 1st 1863
In camp near Hanover Junction
Dear Frances:

As I cannot get a letter from home I will rite again. It has now been nearly 4 weeks since I heard a word from home, whose fault it is I do not know but I am anxious to hear how you all are getting on. It has not been long enough for the last to go, and return but as I was going to rite to Hall, I thought I would rite you a few lines. This leaves me very well except a slight cold, hoping it may find yourself and all the sweet children enjoying the same blessing of God. I have nothing of interest to rite to you more than we are still in camp here near the Central Road and about 3 miles from Hanover Junction 25 by 20 from Richmond, but when we will leave her, I cannot tell nor where we will go we have been here nearly 2 weeks but there is no Yankees here. In my last two letters I forgot to tell you where to direct yours. Tell John to rite me word whether he can get a substitute or not as soon as he can for I am anxious to know. Tell your Uncle Henry if John cannot get me a substitute to get the petition ready as soon as he can and send it down to Richmond but if I had rather have a substitute, if John can get one. When you rite you can direct your letter to Richmond Co. E. 18 Va. Regiment, Garnett's Brigade, Pickett's Division

Rite me all the news you can in your next letter, how the crops looks and how you are getting along. Tell Fletcher I want to hear from him. Tell Susy to rite me a few lines. Tell Frank he must attend to the boys and make me a good crop. Tell Nany to feed the chickens and make them grow to make me a pie when I come home. Tell Bug I wish I could kiss her sweet little lips. Rite me word how you are getting on trading in your eggs and butter. I am making out tolerable well now about something to eat as I can buy a at a high price. I have to buy on account of the meat not being good and I buy bread on account of not getting enough, as you know, I eat a great deal of bread. Sweet milk is worth 75 cents a quart, butter 2.50 a pound, eggs 2 dollars a dozen and everything else in proportion so it takes a heap of money to buy a little. If you have not started that money I rote for you to send do not send it now for I have drawn 28.60 cents which will do me but if you have not paid out that money of Jo Dopes you can take out 5 dollars and pay the 20 dollars to whoever he direct, it. When I past Richmond I left my overcoat for Davy to send home when he got back there. No more, so fare well for this time, I ever remain your devoted husband until death.

Jas E. Burge to his loving wife
Frances S. Burge

Football Test For Local Boys

Practic, time is nearly over for the fourteen boys from the Appomattox area who will be competing Thursday (October 12 in the first Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

Wayne Carter Simpson, Phillip Coleman, William Allen Hunter, Jr., Dudley Hill, Wilson N. Harvey, Johnny Harris, Thomas Richa d Bass, Lynn Aaron Doss, Wilson D. Adams, Jr., John Allen Reddish, Steele Shelton, Bill Dudley, Donald Kanipe, Ronald Kanipe.

The public is invited to Appomattox High School to watch grade school boys aged 6 through 10 test their skills in punting, passing and place-kicking footballs. Entrants will receive one point for each foot the ball travels through the air and will lose one point for each foot the balls lands on either side of a center line.

Gordon Bragg, Appomattox High School, Coach Director of Competition, said each ball would be marked at the spot where it lands, and that distances immediately would be measured by the judges. He pointed out that boys would be competing against others in their age groups only, thus preventing unequal competition.

In case of ties in the competition for the first second and third place winners in each age group, the competition will be repeated by those boys. First prizes will be football uniforms, second prizes will be warm-up jackets, and third prizes will be footballs.

In addition to winning the football uniform first prizes, the most skilled boys in each group also will be in the running for an appearance at one of the home games of the National Football League, when regional winners will punt, pass, and kick in an elimination to determine the five National Champions. Scores from every P. T. and K. competition in this area will be compared, and the best competitor in each age group chosen for the elimination.

Mr. Bragg said that in the case of ties between boys in this area, additional tie-breaking competitions will be held to determine regional winners" We may be back at A. H. S. in another week to stage a competition for one of our boys who is tied with someone inanother part of the state," Mr. Bragg said. "If so, the same procedure will be followed - he will punt, pass and kick for distance and accuracy, and his new score will be forwarded to P. P. and K. headquarters for comparison."

The competition, which will culminate with the choosing of five National Champions, who will be given a reception at the White House and attend National Football League Championship game with their fathers, is sponsored by the Ford Division of the Ford Motor Company, in cooperation with the National Football League.

Local sponsor is Grinels Motor Co.

Southside Ass'n.

A meeting of the Southside Tuberculosis Association's Medical Advisory Committee was held in the home of Mrs. Emma G. Anthony, Executive Director, on Sunday, October 2, 1961 at 3 P. M. with Dr., Margaret Pennington Chairman, presiding. Dr. Pennington informed the committee that this Association attempts to operate a program reaching all of the people in the area and she felt they could be helpful in suggestions as to expanding the Health Education Programs.

Dr. William Pennington demonstrated a tape recorder with a loud speaker attached. Dr. Pennington cut the tape using background of soft music with frequent spots of TB Educational material on it. This has been successfully used in their office in Buckingham.

THE FOLLOWING RECOMMENDATIONS WERE MADE:

1. Tapes or a record be made on individual county level on the local TB problem to be used in doctors offices, Health Departments, doctors offices, Health Departments.

2. Have contests in schools for Health Posters to be placed in drug stores especially, school libraries, etc.

3. Place material on Respiratory Diseases in all high school libraries and at the hospitals for Staff Meeting.

"DON'T LITTER NOTICE

RICHMOND — "Stop, Look -But Don't Litter." That is the substance of a new appeal by the State Highway Department for roadside cleanliness.

The fair and football season means an increase in travel and a greater concentration of people in certain areas-- both of which, the Department warned, increase the litterbug threat.

Litter on the roadsides is not only unattractive, unsanitary, and uneconomical, the Department pointed out; it is also, particularly at this time of year, a fire hazard. It has been estimated that fires caused by roadside litter cost the nation more than 70 million dollars in damage annually. a

The Department's appeal noted that the cost of removing debris from Virginia's primary roads amounted to almost $300,000 during the last fiscal year. Such an expenditure could be considerably reduced, the Department said, if motorists would remember not to throw trash from car windows but to deposit it in paper bags or other containers or in roadside trash cans.

DEDICATION PROGRAM AT PAMPLIN SUNDAY

Dr. Solon B. Cousins, until recently head of the department of Bible and Religion at the University of Richmond, will be the guest preacher at Elon Baptist Church, Pamplin, Sunday morning, October 15, when the church accepts and dedicates a brass cross for the communion table and also a set of brass offering plates as a memorial to the late Dr. James H. Franklin, a native of Pamplin, and a son of Elon Church in the Christian ministry. The memorials are a gift of his sister, Miss Kate Franklin, a member of Elon Church.

The Rev. John Leslie Hart is the pastor of the Elon Church.
